

Announcing 69th CWAJ Print Show

Contemporary Japanese Prints Exhibition & Sale

2026 Catalogue Cover Print: GOTOU Hidehiko
'Iwa no Oto' (The Silent Voice of the Stone)

October 14, 2026 (Wed) ~ October 18, 2026 (Sun)

11:00 ~ 18:00 (17:00 on the last day)

Hillside Forum (Tokyo, Daikanyama) Hillside Terrace F Building
18-8 Sarugakucho, Shibuya-ku

The CWAJ, General Incorporated Association CWAJ (College Women's Association of Japan, official name: General Incorporated Association CWAJ)*, is pleased to announce the 69th CWAJ Print Show. The open-competition juried show has, since 1956, introduced outstanding Japanese contemporary prints, and includes some invited artists and an Associate Show. Each year it exhibits and sells about 200 works representing contemporary Japanese prints, ranging from traditional woodblock-style to pop contemporary art, with the net proceeds going toward the CWAJ Scholarships for women and visually impaired male and female students. Purchasing prints and related merchandise provides direct assistance to nurture women leaders and supports visually impaired students, contributing to the future. The Young Printmaker Award (YPA), established by CWAJ to support young printmakers, is now in its 22nd year, and the CWAJ Loro Piana Woman Artist Award, which supports the success of Japanese women printmakers, is in its fifth year.

Hands-on Art

Hands on Art is a long-standing program of CWAJ that allows visually impaired visitors to enjoy print exhibitions. The Hands on Art Team selects a few works that are made into raised copies, so that participants can appreciate the prints by touching lines and surfaces with their hands while hearing explanations. Although the number of raised images that can be created is limited, the volunteer guides provide commentary on other prints displayed at the venue.

Associate Show

"Yoo Koo Soo to Yokoo Tadanori's HANGA Universe"

CWAJ is delighted to exhibit 38 carefully selected prints made in the period from 1960 to the present by Yokoo Tadanori, a leading contemporary Japanese artist. The experience of viewing so many Yokoo prints together is truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. Many of the prints are available for purchase. Please experience the rich world of prints by Yokoo, who has exhibited at CWAJ almost every year since 1974.

First Venue: October 14 (Wed) ~ October 18 (Sun) (held concurrently with the CWAJ Print Show at Hillside Forum)

Second Venue: October 20 (Tue) ~ November 9 (Mon) 11:00-18:00 (First day 15:00-17:00, Last day 11:00-13:00) Tokyo American Club, B1F, Frederick Harris Gallery, 2-1-2 Azabudai, Minato-ku

All admission is free

CWAJ Print Show Online Gallery

Exhibition period: October 20 (Tue) 9:00 JST~ October 25 (Sun) 18:00 JST

URL: <https://cwaj-gallery.jp>

After the exhibition and sale at the Daikanyama venue ends, all works will be displayed and, subject to availability, sold online (international shipping available).

* CWAJ is a not-for-profit volunteer organization founded on the philosophy of "women supporting women," with about 400 female members from 25 countries dedicated to promoting education and culture.

Contact: CWAJ Public Relations Officer pspublicity@cwaj.org

For more information, please visit the website below

<https://cwaj.org/print/find-us-at-print-show/>

College Women's Association of Japan-CWAJ

cwaj_japan

